Here are the main points of your insurance requirements as we understand them (known as a Statement of Demands and Needs). If you don't think we have understood your requirements correctly, please let us know straightaway.

You told us you want insurance that covers:

The structure of 10, 12-14 The Courtyard, Rock Lane Farm, Liscombe Park, Soulbury, Leighton Buzzard, Beds, LU7 0GY on as broad a basis as is generally available in the market, including cover for Contents, Loss of Rent & Liability to the Public at a competitive price.

Our proposal has been made on the basis that it meets your Insurance Requirements unless we indicate otherwise below.

Information You Must Disclose

As you will be aware, you have a duty to disclose all 'material circumstances' to your broker or insurer before you can be insured. This is known as Duty of Fair Presentation. You must do this at the outset and then throughout the period of your cover.

So, what is a material circumstance? Broadly speaking, this is anything you know of (or should know of) that would influence the judgement of an insurer in deciding whether to insure the risk – and on what terms. For instance:

Your Overall Insurance History

- ✓ Any claims and loss history
- ✓ Losses or incidents where claims were not made
- ✓ Adverse credit history
- ✓ Refusal by an insurer to offer cover (Insurance declinature)
- ✓ Injuries to members of the public

Business & Employment

- ✓ Theft or fraud by an employee
- ✓ Claims made against a director or trustee, even if in connection with a different organisation
- ✓ Accusations of misleading advice or design

Checking your Insurance – Next Steps

Terms and Conditions applicable

The Insurer's Schedule and Wording includes Significant Policy Terms, Conditions, Exclusions and Warranties. You may be tempted to skim through these because they're not easy to read or understand but please read them carefully as your Insurer can put extra clauses into the policy to change its scope or leave cover out altogether. Please also ensure your tenants are aware of the policy terms and conditions.

We would like to draw your attention to the following main clauses that apply to your policy. If you don't understand a condition, or can't see how it will work for you, contact us so we can explain it to you.

- Unoccupancy Clause – this applies restrictions and exclusions to the policy cover if your property is unoccupied for 30 days please refer to page 6 of your Policy Wording.
- Minimum Security 903 – Theft Cover is subject to the property being fitted with the Locks shown on page 3 of your Renewal Schedule.
- Endorsement 1 – Insurers have noted that the Property Owners Liability section extends to cover all communal areas that you are responsible for. See page 3 of the Renewal Schedule
- Increased Construction Excess 130a – The excess under the policy for Storm & Flood is increased to £500 – See page 2 of the Renewal Schedule
- Flat Roof Condition 906 – Insurers require your Flat Roof inspected and tested at least once every 2-year period by a qualified independent roofing contractor with a Certificate issued confirming the roof is in sound weather proof condition.
- Asbestos Exclusion – Cover is excluded for any claim involving Asbestos
- See General Policy Conditions – Pages 5 to 6 of the Policy Wording

Assessing Your Sums insured

Make sure your policy's sums insured (that's the maximum amount your insurer will pay out for a claim) is enough to cover any loss or damage.

Most commercial policies contain an "Average Clause". An insurer can use this clause if you have not set your sums insured at the amount required to cover a total loss. For instance, if you have only insured for 50% of the total value at risk, you'll only receive 50% of the value of any claim.

Example:

Total value at risk £1,000,000

Sum Insured £500,000

Amount claimed £25,000

Amount insurer will pay £12,500

If you're not sure your sums insured are enough, you can hire a professional valuer to help you work out what they should be.

Remember when you're setting your sum insured for Loss of Rent you'll need to take into consideration the income you receive from renting the property and how long it would take you to reinstate the property and start receiving rental income again in the event of a total loss. This usually takes the form of a 12/24/36 month term.

What You Will Pay

Period of Insurance	19th April 2019 to 18th April 2020
Class of Insurance	Insurer	Cost £	Insurance Premium Tax (IPT) 12% £	Total Cost £
Property	Beech	£828.00	£99.36	£927.36
Client Administration Fee Beech Administration Fee				£50.00 £25.00
			Total Due	£1002.36

We would also recommend the addition of Legal Expenses cover to this policy however to enable Insurers to offer a quotation, they will need confirmation of the number of Tenancy Agreements that are in place for the property. We would therefore appreciate confirmation of this if you would like us to provide a quotation.
