Hi Ian,

Thank you for your email to follow up.

As an update, we have prepared a letter to deliver to each tenant which is intended to provide an update and share the plan for billing going forwards. I know we have the information that you provided last year, it makes more administrative sense for us to co-ordinate the above all at once which is expected to be issued in May.

As you say with the turnover of residents, we do not have a complete list so within the letter we request contact information which we will use going forward.

I appreciate the progress has been gradual on our end, so I thank you for your patience.

All the best,

Hi Fergus

We have not received a response for some time regarding our previous enquiry about water meter readings and the associated billing arrangements for residents at The Courtyard.

While we appreciate that you may have competing priorities, we understand from neighbouring properties outside of our fourteen residences that they are experiencing a similar lack of billing. This suggests the matter may be more widespread.

As previously outlined, the Courtyard Management Company remains willing to assist in progressing this matter. However, this can only be done once a clear and agreed approach is established between us and your organisation.

For clarity, any recovery of historic water charges will need to be pursued directly with individual residents. Due to changes in occupancy over the years, we are not in a position to support this process.

We would also note that responsibility for road-related charges, which we had previously assumed, has similarly been subject to limited communication from your side over several years. This reflects the experience of other users beyond our group of 14 residents.

We would appreciate an update on how you propose to proceed.

Kind Regards

CMC The Courtyard Water Meter Readings

It has come to the attention of the 14 residences of The Courtyard, Liscombe Park, that Liscombe Business Park has not issued any requests for payment for water consumption since early 2021.

As the designated 'reseller', Liscombe Park Management is responsible for collecting these charges. To assist, our management company (CMC) has provided meter readings from the last billing period (3 March 2021) and from the end of July 2025 (see attached).

Please note that during this period, several residences have changed ownership. We also have no information on the unit price charged by Anglia Water over this timeframe, nor on what new owners may owe since their date of purchase.

We trust this information is of assistance. Should you require anything further, please let us know. We considered it important to formally bring this matter to your attention.

Kind Regards
