Hi Fergus

We have not received a response for some time regarding our previous enquiry about water meter readings and the associated billing arrangements for residents at The Courtyard.

While we appreciate that you may have competing priorities, we understand from neighbouring properties outside of our fourteen residences that they are experiencing a similar lack of billing. This suggests the matter may be more widespread.

As previously outlined, the Courtyard Management Company remains willing to assist in progressing this matter. However, this can only be done once a clear and agreed approach is established between us and your organisation.

For clarity, any recovery of historic water charges will need to be pursued directly with individual residents. Due to changes in occupancy over the years, we are not in a position to support this process.

We would also note that responsibility for road-related charges, which we had previously assumed, has similarly been subject to limited communication from your side over several years. This reflects the experience of other users beyond our group of 14 residents.

We would appreciate an update on how you propose to proceed.

Kind Regards
